

Heatmap visualization showing the Average Normalized Compression for the 'average' metric. The color scale ranges from 1.45 (lightest) to 1.80 (darkest). The heatmap shows a dense grid of values, with a prominent dark red region in the center, indicating higher compression values, and lighter orange regions towards the edges, indicating lower compression values.

Average Normalized Compression